

Updated FedLine® Documentation is Now Available

Updated FedLine documentation is now available to authorized End User Authorization Contacts (EUACs) via the Federal Reserve Banks' EUAC Center. EUACs who have activated their access to this tool may view the documentation, via the "Documentation" link.

EUACs who have not activated their access to the EUAC Center should complete the form available at the link below in order to access this important documentation. Please note that updated documentation will be available only through the EUAC Center and will no longer be mailed to EUACs.

To activate your access to the EUAC Center, please complete and return the form available at <http://frbervices.org/Electronic-Access/pdf/SSEUACForm.pdf>. This is an updated version of the EUAC form previously submitted on behalf of your organization's EUACs. If your organization's EUACs are already enrolled in the EUAC Center, this form does not need to be resubmitted.
